

Module 1, Topic 2:

Summary: With so much variation in the ways in which different communities around the world practice social accountability, it's important to reflect upon some of the elements that are common to many of these approaches. This presentation describes and illustrates three key building blocks and factors for success in social accountability: information, voice, and negotiation.

Viewing time: 13 minutes

